When I started in tech sales circa 2007, one of the first things they said in training was, you don't want to sound like vendor verbal vomit. This blog is vendor verbal vomit. The only thing I have to sell is sin, confusion, blindness, vice, disorder, profanity, despair, and death. I hear that sometimes the Holy Spirit

Edit

Note: If Saint Paul didn't feel comfortable monetizing the gospel (cf. 1 Corinthians 9, 2 Corinthians 11), I don't think I should either. I don't make a dime on the ads on this site, but their absurdity and pervasiveness are a fitting demonstration of the disordered and wounded world that we live in and a fitting context for whatever wisdom God sees fit to convey through my foolishness.

monasticism, a movement which began in 1969 when he was appointed to the Monastery of St Macarius in the Wadi El Natrun in Egypt. By the time of his death the community had grown from 6 aged monks to 130 monks, and as many other monasteries were revived, new ones also began to open. He was twice nominated to become Coptic Pope, but was not chosen in either case.

Matta was also a theologian, and author of 181 books and hundreds of journal articles on Biblical exegesis, Ecclesiastical rites, spiritual and theological matters, and much more. Some of these writings were controversial.[1]
